

East-meets-West Weekend Market Landing in Cyberport Unleashing Your Innate Artistry ** Discovering the World Classics

Hong Kong – 26 August, 2011 – Presented by Cyberport, the East-meets-West Weekend Market cum modern-classic art fiesta will be staged at the lush green lawn at The Podium of Cyberport.

Flea market or outdoor market is very popular and well received by public in the western world. To offer the similar experience to Hong Kong general public, Cyberport will launch the Weekend Market in the fall for families and outdoor lovers to enjoy.

With a spacious and relax environment, over 40 unique bazaar booths will be offering a comprehensive list of products for shoppers including exotic handcrafts and locally-designed creative gadgets. For the East-West fusion delight, the Weekend Market will also showcase a rich variety of Chinese-style live performances and art-and-craft workshops. What's more, the "PIN-a-Color @ Cyberport", presented by a renowned multi-media artist, will splash more colors onto the bazaar experience! Springing from the Google map "location pin" idea, giant pin fixtures will be decked across the green lawn where visitors can swiftly become artists and unleash their creativity to decorate the pins – an absolute crossover of IT element with art! When the night begins to fall, The Podium will transform itself into the first outdoor theatre featuring the "World Class Classical Music Concerts and Operas".

The Cyberport Weekend Market will be held every first weekend from September to November 2011 and will offer you a perfect spot with fantastic blend of art, shopping and leisure experience. A great weekend getaway for families and tourists!

The Weekend Market on the Green

Cyberport Weekend Market starts from 11am to 6pm at the Podium. The bazaar booths, run by foreign and local artists & craftsmen, will showcase different creations and collectables, ranging from clothing, accessories, handicrafts, furniture to photographic works and food. All goods are unique in style, aesthetic and handmade. Some booth vendors are local young start-up entrepreneurs from Labor Department's "Y.E.S. Youth Employment Start" Scheme, offering goodies that are innovative and dainty which represent Hong Kong's living culture and artistic talents.

Ms. Rhyan Yeung, a young paper carving master from Hong Kong Paper Art Association, will host paper art workshops and teach kids to make cute pencil box, photo frame, candy box and money bank. Workshops are free and on a first-come-first-served basis with limited seats. While experiencing the serenity in paper art, you can also explore a more active side of art in Chinese Kung-fu! On 3 September, award-winning martial artists from New Martial Hero Magazine will demonstrate their skills. Master Yung Kwok Wing will showcase his powerful Wing Chun to public as well. On 4 September, Master Susan Gu will demonstrate another Kung-fu art - Tai Chi. East-West mix, tranquility and action are all in one place!

PIN-a-Color @ Cyberport

Cyberport Weekend Market is also the home of the art installation project “Pin-a-Color @Cyberport” by renowned multi-media artist, Jo Yiu CHENG. Inspired by the Google map “location pin”, dozens of 1.2m high white color giant pin fixtures made of fiberglass will be covering The Podium’s green lawn. Visitors can have a chance to explore their creativity and imagination to design and paint these pins with coloring pack provided. The best piece in each session will be selected and displayed in the upcoming exhibition.

The project master, Jo Yiu CHENG, is a well-known multi-media artist. His works, with a focus on the correlation between digital language and reality, have been exhibited in France and various cities in China, including Hong Kong & Shenzhen Bi-City Biennale of Urbanism\Architecture 2009.

Customers spending HK$300 at The Arcade of Cyberport or paying a HK$500 entry fee (all proceeds will go to charity) can have one supersized pin for coloring. Customers can even take photos and share their personalized masterpiece on Facebook or Weibo with their friends in real time - pairing art with technology!

Classical In Cinema under the Starry Sky

When the night draws near, The Podium will become an outdoor theatre to play the classical music extravaganza on the Big Screen. Audiences can enjoy the breathtaking shows on the grass lawn under the starry sky with comfort and peace. Hot meals and drinks can also be ordered together with the tickets. A perfect indulgence for the eyes, ears, and taste!
