Cyberport community start-ups scoop 19 awards at Hong Kong ICT Awards 2019

Hong Kong, 7 April 2019 — As Hong Kong's largest digital tech start-ups community, Cyberport is committed to promoting the applications and development of digital technology in various areas. Its tremendous achievement was once again recognised by the prestigious Hong Kong ICT Awards. A total of 16 start-ups and tech firms from the Cyberport community were awarded 19 accolades across seven award categories in this year's Hong Kong ICT Awards.

Fintech has long been a key strength of Cyberport. CoverGo, which specialises in InsurTech, won the Gold Award in the "Fintech Award—Banking, Insurance and Capital Market" streams as well as the Grand Fintech Award, with its proprietary, cutting-edge insurance policy management tools. Roborn, with its state-of-the-art robotic technologies, won the "ICT Startup" Grand Award as well as the Gold Award in the "Hardware & Devices" streams. In addition, ubiZenze which focuses in IoT-Augmented Airfield Service System (AS2), teamed up with the Airport Authority Hong Kong and Center of Cyber Logistics, AISCL, The Chinese University of Hong Kong, won the "Smart Mobility" Grand Award and the Gold Award in the "Smart Logistics" streams.

Digital entertainment has become a new growth driver for Cyberport in recent years. For the first time, the Cyberport community members were recognised by the "Digital Entertainment Award". With its innovative mobile game called "Trillionia", Skytree Digital claimed the Gold Award in the "Entertainment & eSports Software" stream. The Gold Prize in the "ICT Startup – Software & Apps" stream went to racing game developer Godzpeed. GRWTH, which focuses on the development of an integrated education platform for teachers and students, was recognised with the Gold Award in "Smart Living Award—Smart Lifestyle" stream. Another ten Cyberport community members won four further Silver Awards, four Bronze Awards and two Certificates of Merit separately. The results are encouraging. Cyberport community clinched Gold, Silver, Bronze Awards as well as Certificate of Merit under the "ICT Startup Award – Software & Apps" stream. (For the full list of award winners, please refer to the attachment.)

"The Cyberport start-up community has again shown remarkable success at the prestigious Hong Kong ICT Awards, particularly in fintech, digital entertainment and smart living. We are pleased to see that Cyberport's start-up ecosystem continues to cultivate outstanding new-economy companies and inject new impetus to the development of Hong Kong," said Peter Yan, Chief Executive Officer of Cyberport.

"Looking forward, Cyberport will continue to expand its strategic co-operation with Greater Bay Area and overseas partners, making more room for the award-winning and other nascent start-ups to thrive and grow in the broader tech space of the Greater Bay Area and further afield."

The Hong Kong ICT Awards is a signature event of the industry. It is steered by the Office of the Government Chief Information Officer (OGCIO) with eight award categories to recognise innovative technology start-ups and companies and encourage enterprise to pursuit of creative and better solutions.
